Question Answer Script

Why Question Answer Script?

If you ask any website developer regarding contents of his site then he or she will conclude that the rich content in the website is the king. But according to me it is half true because freshness of the content is most important which matters. That means once your site is doing well at search engine it is very important that you keep the content of that site constantly updating so that the site should keep on doing well. This thing is only possible when either you do it manually or use effective & efficient question answer script for the same purpose. Question answer websites are very beneficial or advantageous in comparison to the other form of websites as it provides the best content and accurate content for the website. This websites are like interactive websites whose contents and relating things keeps on updating on every visit of the user.

If you look into this from webmasters point of view then you can easily earn great revenue from the website. Not only that, when you think of its maintenance then there is nothing that you need to worry because content of the website is always fresh as its users always ask and answers questions and keeps the site updated. It gives you the same flexibility and usability as you have ever experienced with the sites like 'Yahoo Answer' or 'Wiki Answers'. So, just setup your question-answer site today using question answer script and forget about everything else.

URL Rewriting Settings for Questions

Character to use to separate words in question title

(-) Hyphen (_) Underscore

Syntax of the question title to be used in title generation

Syntax Help : You can specify any mix of static text and variables (allowed variables includes : %categorytitle% for category title and, %questiontitle% for question title). Spaces are not allowed. The following characters, in bracket, are prohibited in the question title (? , > , < , = , & , + , : , ; , @ , $, (,) , # , % , { , } , | , ^ , ~ , ' , [,] , " , '). The variables in the syntax would be automatically filtered out for the prohibited characters before they are included in the question title part of the url.

For example -

(%categorytitle%-%questiontitle%) , (MySports-%questiontitle%) , etc are valid url syntax.

(%categorytitle% %questiontitle%) is invalid because spaces are not allowed

([MySports]:%questiontitle%) is invalid as : , [,and] are prohibited characters.

- Control whether resolved questions can be answered further or not
- Control whether users can reply to their own questions or not
- Control whether you want the question mark to be appended automatically, when not found
- Control whether you want to allow users to edit question description or their answers
- Control whether you want to allow users to delete their answers

- Now Question Answer scripts also Tweets, We support automatic Twitter Posting

Allow Question Tweeting
This feature will post link of every questions posted on your website to twitter.com. If you want to pre-append any message to question link posted, then specify it below.

Twitter Account Details : Username Password

Append question title to each tweet. Only first 50 characters of the question title would be appended.
This option will tweet every question with its link. Since twitter only allows 140 ASCII characters for each tweet and while the script features unicode, hence there is 50 characters limit for safe tweeting. But if you want to force script to use 100 characters from the question to be tweeted, then enable the setting below. But make sure we don't guarantee safe tweeting, means, some characters would be automatically chopped off by Twitter if tweet exceeds 140 characters limit.

Force to use 100 characters from the question for tweeting.

Append custom message with each question link posted (allowed message length is 100 characters)
Custom Message to Append :

Also allow to tweet imported questions for Yahoo Answers !
This feature will allow to tweet imported questions when the same is made live on the website.
